AQUALAND FARMS

Organic Vista Farm

Aqualand Farms was started in 2011 using aquaponics as a farming method. This water conserving method is a combination of aquaculture (farming of fish) and hydroponics (soil-less farming). They use about 90% less water than traditional farming. In their eco-friendly greenhouses, tilapia fish provide nutrients to the plants, the plants clean the water for the fish, and the cycle is repeated over and over again. They use no pesticides in their way of farming. Since all the plants are suspended in water ways, no weed control is needed. Aqualand Farms produces organic English cucumbers, cherry tomatoes, and squash with delivery the same day to each of our stores.
