LA VIGNE ORGANICS

La Vigne Organics began about 20 years ago when Helen Beck decided to make products from the fruit that her husband, Robert, grew on their property. With an abundance of persimmons and kumquats they couldn't see go to waste, she began her line of condiments. Thus, in the spirit of preservation, her first product, dried persimmons, was created.

In 1994, Helene and Robert moved to Fallbrook to pursue a healthful lifestyle in a beautiful rural area. They converted a neglected avocado farm into an abundant grove, producing fifteen different fruit crops, all of which are 100% organic. Their grove is completely certified organic by CCOF, and is devoted to less-mainstream fruits, including kumquats, persimmons, cherimoyas, minneolas and blood oranges.
