Cobblestone Foods was founded in Oceanside to serve and support organizations and communities where good nutrition is recognized as an integral part of life. While Cobblestone Foods originated with Pat Lupica, healthy vegan soup recipes were passed from one generation to another and represent decades of development and dedication to spiritual and physical health.