

ATTENTION CUSTOMERS!

On August 22nd, Wawona Packing Co. issued a release voluntarily recalling all of its bulk/loose peaches distributed and sold from June 1st - August 3rd, and its bagged Wawona Organic peaches distributed and sold from June 1st - August 19th because the products could possibly be contaminated with Salmonella.

Jimbo's did receive a limited amount of bulk/loose organic peaches that falls under this voluntary recall with the last shipment arriving at our stores August 2nd. This distributor is our secondary source for organic peaches and only a few cases total were sold at our stores. The majority of our peaches come from Frog Hollow Farm in Brentwood near San Francisco, and are not part of the voluntary recall.

If you should still have any peaches purchased from our stores before August 9th, please do not consume and throw away. You may come into Jimbo's and request a full refund of the said fruit, with or without product.

We apologize for any inconvenience,
Jimbo's Management
